Introduction

Certified in Certified ISO 41001:2018 Lead Auditor

ISO 41001 Lead Auditor certification demonstrates individuals' understanding of auditing principles, methodologies, and the specific requirements outlined in the ISO 41001:2018 standard.

GSDC offers the ISO 41001 Lead Auditor certification exam, enabling professionals to showcase their knowledge and practical skills in conducting effective facility management audits. By successfully completing this exam, candidates demonstrate their ability to plan, execute, and manage audits while ensuring compliance with the ISO 41001:2018 standard.

However, this certification serves as a valuable credential for experienced professionals who have already acquired the necessary knowledge and practical experience in facility management auditing. The GSDC Certified ISO 41001:2018 Lead Auditor certification enhances professionals' credibility and highlights their competence in identifying areas for improvement, evaluating facility management processes, and supporting organizations in maintaining compliance with the ISO 41001:2018 standard.

Learning Objective

Certified Learning & Development Professional CLDP

I took the certification course "Certified Learning & Development Professional CLDP" approved by the GSDC - Global Skill Development Council. So grateful to the professional team at the GSDC for this enlightening opportunity; namely, Ruguzeno, for her dedication, responsiveness, and constant support throughout this learning journey. And very special thanks to the amazing trainer and coach Deepak Sharma for the great weekly live sessions which I believe are the highlight of this certification programme. His knowledge, expertise, and outstanding skills have made the course very insightful, engaging, and enjoyable!
