Just wrapped up a big milestone — officially a Certified Learning & Development Professional!

from GSDC - Global Skill Development Council accredited by ANSI - American National Standards Institute
& ABICB - Accreditation Board for International Certification Bodies
Working in L&D has taught me that creating meaningful learning experiences isn't just about content or tools, it's about people, impact, and continuous growth. This certification was a great way to sharpen my skills, reflect on what's working, and explore new strategies to take learning even further.

Grateful for the opportunity to keep growing in a field I genuinely enjoy and excited for what's next! Throughout the process, I've reflected on:
- The impact of thoughtful L&D on employee experience
- The role of continuous learning in shaping resilient organizations
- And most importantly, how human this work really is

Huge thanks to everyone who supported me along the way. I'm excited to keep learning, keep growing, and help others do the same because learning never stops, and neither will I.

New milestone achieved 🏆, and it goes on.🎉

Today, I am proud to share with you that i'm Certified Learning & Development Professional 🎓 by GSDC - Global Skill Development Council.

Earning this certification has been a truly valuable experience. It felt like adding new layers of knowledge and best practices in the field of Learning & Development. This journey aligns with my ongoing commitment to find effective and innovative solutions in the corporate world.

The GSDC-Global Skill Development Council has helped many organisations certifying its employees (https://lnkd.in/e_WDUfTe ✅), and is honored member of ANSI - American National Standards Institute
& ABICB - Accreditation Board for International Certification Bodies. ✔️

Here is two valuable insights i've gained:

📌 L&D strategy: Assessing leadership and management, enhancing development opportunities, and delivering solutions that are aligned with the organisation's culture and objectives.
📌 Training Design & Delivery: Mastering training needs through analysis, and contributing to an impactful learning experiences that inspire growth and performance, as the L&D interventions are on a continuous process.

Thank you GSDC team for this program, and Ruguozeno C for being available and helpfull.
